Home to Tara

You left us unexpectedly—we miss you every day.
So many words left silenced, still meant for us to say.

More memories to make with you; more time to laugh out loud;
More days to share the things we loved within our special crowd.

More dressing up in costume; more dancing at the ball.
More time to be reminded that with you, we had it all.

More Rhett and Scarlett moments; more time to dream the dream.
More years to watch Gone With the Wind upon the silver screen.

More hope that all you shared in life, the love that you had known;
You've taken to your Tara; the place you now call home.
